ANNEX 1: GROUP GRIEVANCE INVESTIGATION PROCEDURE

STEP 1: INFORMAL DISCUSSION	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CTP Staff is encouraged to use informal methods of resolving disagreements or disputes. If CTP Staff have a reasonable grievance or complaint regarding the workplace or the way they have been treated at work, they should, where possible, start by discussing it with their manager. It may be possible to agree to a solution informally between worker and manager. • Every effort should be made by both management and workers to resolve complaints, grievances, and disputes at the earliest possible opportunity and with the minimum opportunity for tension or conflict.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Informal arrangements – and friendly resolution – are always preferable; however, this first step should not be made a pre-requisite for commencing a formal complaint. • Confidentiality: Where direct line supervisor is subject of complaint, informal communication with this supervisor is neither desirable nor effective. In these cases a CTP Staff needs to be able to speak with other parts of management.
STEP 2: FORMAL GRIEVANCE	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the CTP Staff wishes to raise the matter formally, she/he should set out the grievance in writing to their manager, or through the Group AML & Compliance Officer or using the Grievance channel available on intranet. This submission should be factual in nature and avoid language that is insulting or abusive. • Where the grievance is against the CTP Staff's manager and the CTP Staff is uncomfortable approaching him/ her, the CTP Staff should address the grievance to another manager or the HR department.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Individual and collective grievances: Collective grievances and disputes should be handled using the same approach as that for individual complaints and grievances. • Non-retribution: The procedure guarantees that any CTP staff raising a complaint will not be subject to any reprisal. • Sensitivity to vulnerable staff: CTP Staff that may feel particularly vulnerable (e.g. women, ethnic/religious minorities, migrant workers, younger workers, employees with disabilities) should not be deterred from lodging a grievance. Therefore, the process for lodging grievances is discreet to allow CTP Staff to make a complaint without anyone else knowing. The anonymous Grievance channel available on intranet is the best tool.

- Right to anonymity: CTP Procedures and Grievance channel provides CTP Staff with the option to file grievances anonymously, including against their direct supervisor if the CTP Staff wishes to make a complaint against them.
- Recordkeeping ensured by Group AML & Compliance Officer is part of addressing CTP Staff grievances.

GRIEVANCE HEARING

- Group AML & Compliance Officer will call the CTP Staff to a meeting within 5 working days after receiving the complaint to discuss the CTP Staff's grievance.
- Pending national legislation and any applicable collective agreement, the CTP Staff should have the right to be accompanied by a colleague at this meeting if he/she makes a reasonable request.
- After the meeting, the Group AML & Compliance Officer will give the CTP Staff a decision in writing within 1 month.

STEP 4:
APPEAL

- If the CTP Staff wishes to appeal the decision, he/she should notify the Group AML & Compliance Officer. The CTP Staff will be invited to an appeal meeting within 5 working days and the appeal will be heard by a more senior manager (Deputy CEO and Group CFO; or Board chairperson if the concern refers to the Executives).
- The CTP Staff will normally have the right to be accompanied by a colleague at this meeting if s/he makes a reasonable request. Every effort should be made to secure a resolution in the best interests of the CTP Staff and the company. After the meeting the senior manager/Group AML & Compliance Officer will give the CTP Staff a decision in writing.
- This decision is final within the terms of the company's internal grievance mechanism. However, in some legal systems the CTP Staff or their chosen representative may refer the complaint or grievance to the labour ministry/inspectorate (or other appropriate administrative body) for resolution and/or redress, as specified in national law. For example, the CTP Staff have a right to revert to judicial or administrative channels (employment tribunal, labour court, labour inspectorate).
